

ALDEMAN & Associates LLC Presents

Social Media Based Investigations

This one-day training is open to all sworn Law Enforcement officers, corrections, detectives, and intelligence analysts looking for techniques in how to enhance their investigations.

Social Media has revolutionized how humanity communicates, conducts legitimate and nefarious business, while portraying a false image of oneself for personal gain. This communication behemoth has provided many benefits to society. Unfortunately, it has also been hijacked by questionable actors who troll this communication medium to destroy lives and propagate their illegal activities. Law enforcement entities have failed to capitalize on the potential that social media offers to assist officers in furtherance of criminal investigations such as, suspect identification, methods of criminal activities, criminal associates, and areas of operation.

Upon the completion of this course, attendees will have the ability to identify suspects and criminal networks operating in their geographical area of employment. Identify associates, drug suppliers, distributors and customers who can become potential confidential informants. During this block of instruction, you will be provided techniques on how to successfully utilize social media, and all its ills, to identify and curb gang violence, firearms related offenses, human trafficking and smuggling among many other crimes.
